Sometimes you need to meet face-to-face with employees, customers or prospects, but due to time and budget constraints, an on-site visit isn't possible. Video conferencing makes it easy to connect with people anywhere in the world so your interview or company-wide announcement feels more personal. You can put a face to a name and voice and really get your message across the way you intend it.

InterCall's Reservationless video conferencing gives you quality service on our proven platform without the hassle of making a reservation. You can meet on a moment's notice instead of booking a last minute plane ticket. It's simple, cost-effective and helps you get your job done.

EFFECTIVELY CONNECTING PEOPLE

When you need to host weekly, recurring video conferences or organise a last minute video meeting, InterCall's Reservationless video conferencing efficiently allows you to bring people together to help you meet your business objectives and succeed.

Reservationless is a reliable and easy-to-use video solution that does not require reservations or operators. You have the ability to control basic conference commands with the touch of a button on your DTMF-enabled video remote control. And the solution can host ISDN, public IP* and telephone audio connections. In addition, use InView Online to manage your account profile and Reservationless meeting room settings.

By using Reservationless video conferencing, you get:

- + Consistency: Receive permanent dial-in information for your video conference calls
- + Convenience: No reservations, operators or time limits
- + Ease-of-Use: Control basic conference commands from your DTMF enabled video remote control.
- + Customisation: Tailor all of your calls to the same experience or change settings through InterCall Video Reservations on a call-by-call basis.
- + Online Management: Go to www.intercalleurope.com and log into InterCall Video Reservations to manage your Reservationless account

A SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT SOLUTION

With InterCall's Reservationless video conferencing you will receive a simple and convenient solution to create better video conference connections for face-to-face meetings without the cost and headache of travel. With our services, you can bring together your participants for a variety of meetings:

- + Organise weekly status meetings
- + Arrange face-to-face meetings with employees, vendors and prospects
- + Link cross-functional teams from around the world via video
- + Gather participants for a last-minute video meeting

MAKE YOUR MEETINGS MORE PERSONAL

Whether you need to meet one-on-one with a client or potential employee or bring remote teams together, InterCall's Reservationless video conferencing lets you meet virtually to improve communication, strengthen relationships, make quick decisions or finalise a strategy. InterCall's reliable video conferencing solutions, personal attention and years of experience combine to help you connect with more people anywhere in the world.
